

M. VEIL-PICARD WINS BIG AUTEUIL STAKES

His Ultimatum Defeats Field of Eleven in the Grand Steeplechase.

BIG PARIS WEEK BEGINS

Society Well Represented and Elaborate Toilets Are Seen at Fashionable Track.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
Paris, June 22.—The first of the three big race meetings before the closing of the Paris season was held at Auteuil today. Prizes to the value of more than $48,000 were given.

The Prix des Drags, the most aristocratic meeting of the year, when all society attends in coaches, will be held on Friday. The race for the Grand Prix will be held next Sunday. Two years ago the date for this race was moved to the last Sunday in June at the request of tradesmen who desired to extend the Parisian season, which formerly closed on June 15. This scheme worked out so successfully that an attempt is now being made to make July racing interesting enough to keep visitors and society people still longer from the summer resorts.

Paris Mutual Handles $772,273.

There were twelve starters for today's chief event, the Grand Steeplechase, at 7,000 yards with twenty-four jumps. M. Veil-Picard's Ultimatum, the favorite in the betting at 7 to 2, with Harfleur up, was the winner. Not a single horse fell during the race. The only non-French starter was Thomas Hitchcock, Jr.'s Stour, who sprained a fetlock during the race and was pulled up. The prizes were $30,225 for the first horse, $4,500 for the second, $2,984 for the third and $500 for the fourth, with $1,800 and $1,200 added for the trainers of the first and second horses respectively.

The pari mutuel handled $417,020 in the passage of 20 franc admission stands and $355,253 in the pelouse or field, the admission to which is 1 franc.

It was not a day for a great display of dress. The sun was under the clouds a good part of the time and the women were afraid of rain. Besides, Friday is being awaited for the display of costumes as the attendance will be far more select.

Lace Tunes Still in Favor.

Lace tunics still prevail, but the lower half of the dress is invariably dark and often black, giving a general somber effect. The hats, however, leave everything to the individual fancy. Every form and shape was seen and they were of large, small and medium size. The majority were without tops, a simple covering of tulle allowing the hair to be seen. As a result of this style enshades are necessary. They are generally of lace and are in amusing and capricious shapes.

Among those present were the Countess Hohenhausen, who was in mauve with a hat ornamented with a garland of small roses; Princess Murat, who wore a black and marine blue costume with a hat of the same shade and an emerald; Princess Pierre d'Arbois, in pompadour taffeta and a hat covered with roses.

Among the Americans present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Morris and Mrs. Harry La Montagne. Mrs. Perry Belmont, Ambassador Herrick, Perry Wall, Herman H. Duryea and W. K. Vanderbilt.

MEXICAN LOAN ANNOUNCED.

$14,250,000 6 Per Cent. Bonds to Be Issued in France.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
Paris, June 22.—A prospectus has been given out here of the issue of $14,250,000 6 per cent gold treasury bonds of Mexico. This is part of the total issue of $20,000,000 bonds representing the French share of the authorized loan of Mexico of $50,000,000. The bonds are of the nominal value of $100 and the issue price about $97.93.

The loan is repayable in ten years and is especially guaranteed by the application of 34 per cent of the customs import and export duties.

The prospectus says the recent troubles in Mexico, however grave, never had the character of a revolution as that expression is understood in Europe. The question at issue is one of different persons disputing the power of constitutional principles, and is an outside question. The Senate and Chamber remain intact.

The product of the present loan will be used to reimburse the holders of short-term bonds, which will be due the coming September, and other urgent expenses for the army, railways and public works.

WATERLOO MONUMENT UNVEILED

Erected in Memory of Napoleon's
Soldiers Killed in Battle.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
Paris, June 22.—A monument was unveiled today in the orchard of Hougomont, near Waterloo. It was erected by the French in memory of their countrymen who were killed in that historic battle.

The monument is an unobtrusive affair and is of upright shape, something like a gravestone. It is inscribed with Napoleon's words referring to his men who participated in the famous fight: "The earth seemed proud to bear so many brave men."

KING SEES NEWSPAPER MADE.

Alfonso Calls Presses "Machines for Roasting Politicians."

Madrid, June 22.—King Alfonso visited the office of El Imparcial recently, accompanied by Premier Romanones, and inspected every department of the newspaper plant. While he was in the composing room the printers set up a reading "Long Live the King" and the young King insisted on carrying papers as a souvenir. He also visited the hands of the new rotary press, and as he did so remarked to the Prime Minister: "Ah, these are the machines for roasting politicians!"

The King later on was entertained at a luncheon at which all the employees of the paper were present.

Prosecutions.

CAMINETTI'S FATHER BEGGED FOR DELAY

In ordering a postponement of the Diggs and Caminetti case must not be taken as indicative of any disposition on the part of the Department of Justice to avoid bringing the case to trial. He said that the men regardless of their relationship to persons of prominence would be prosecuted in due course. He was not disposed to make any further statement than this at the present time.

In the matter of the postponement of the trial of directors of the Western Fuel and Oil Company for alleged violations of the customs laws it was said that the Department of Justice had been informed by Assistant Attorney-General Harr, who had been reviewing the evidence procured by Mr. McNab, that a postponement was desirable because he feared the evidence thus far in the hands of the Department was insufficient to insure a successful outcome of the trial.

Mr. Harr expressed the view that it would be better to make further investigations and if more evidence were obtained to bring the case against the Western Fuel Company officials to trial later.

Attorney-General McReynolds accompanied by Assistant Attorney-General Charles Lawrence had a conference with Mr. Caminetti at his home about 5 o'clock this afternoon.

California Men Aroused.

California members of Congress may call upon Mr. McReynolds for a full statement of his action. Representative Julius Kahn tonight, "to make public at once all the correspondence, both in the form of letters and telegrams that have passed between himself and Mr. McNab."

"Mr. McNab is one of the brightest and one of the best attorneys on the Pacific coast. He is a fighter from the word go. He has a reputation for rectitude that I know he wants to have sustained, and I can sympathize with him most heartily in the attitude he has taken in this case."

"He felt that the dignity of his office was being besmirched and he felt that his standing in the community was being jeopardized by his being put in the position of holding up the prosecution of those suits. The Diggs-Caminetti case in particular was a case of the sort that the public does not like to see trifled with. The evidence was pretty definite. There should be light and lots of it on this whole case."

Representative John I. Nolan of San Francisco said:

"I set great store by Mr. McNab as an attorney of marked ability and the highest standing in the city of San Francisco. I have known him for years. He is not a man to do a hasty or an ill considered thing or to act for political effect whether the matter involved is serious or trivial."

"He happens to be a Republican and a holdover in the office of United States Attorney, but he is a man of repute and this is not a political question."

EXPECT WILSON TO ACT.

Californians Believe He Will Not Support McReynolds.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The declaration of Secretary Tumulty that President Wilson knew nothing of Secretary McReynolds's telegraphed orders calling off the prosecution of the Western Fuel officials and delaying the cases of Diggs and Caminetti for alleged violation of the Mann white slavery law leads to the belief here that the Administration will not sanction the Department's action.

The sentiment here among Democrats as well as Republicans appears to be strong against the action of McReynolds. His order to prosecute the lesser officials of the Western Fuel Company and to exempt the two higher officials is regarded with suspicion.

The gravity of the situation is increased by the alleged boasts of Diggs and Caminetti that influence of Caminetti's father at Washington will be the means of their escape from being tried on the charge of running two girls of good families.

The elder Caminetti's explanation that he wishes to be here to defend his son excites satirical comment. The evidence against young Diggs and Caminetti is regarded as overwhelming.

netti is regarded as overwhelming.

Caminetti's case is represented as worse than Diggs's. District Attorney McNab says he got evidence from one of the girls that Caminetti treated her cruelly until his arrest in Reno, Nev. Mr. McNab had all the evidence prepared in both cases. To be stopped from prosecuting at this time was more than McNab could stand.

SAY NEW BALKAN WAR IS MATTER OF HOURS

Servian Ministry Resigns and Situation Becomes More Critical Than Ever.

APPROVES ATTITUDE OF U. S.

London "Times" Upholds Mahan's
Views on Japanese Quarrel.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
London, June 23.—The quarrel between the Balkan States was never more critical than at present. It seems to be completely impossible to reconcile Bulgaria and Servia to any common course of action. Premier Pashich has again resigned and this time it is believed that the retirement of this Ministry is definite. As M. Pashich is regarded as a moderating factor in the present dispute his retirement will weaken the hopes of a peaceful settlement. The people and the army are in a very warlike mood.

In Vienna, where Servia is hated, it is declared that if she does not yield she is almost a matter of hours. The Sofia correspondent of the Times thinks that decisive and immediate intervention by the Powers will alone prevent war.

It is reported from Athens that while King Constantine was at Salonica he brusquely refused to grant the Bulgarian General there a special audience, saying he must wait his turn with others. If this is true it must have increased the friction already existing between Greece and Bulgaria.

The Queen of Greece, who had arranged to go to Germany yesterday, postponed her departure because of the threatening outlook, and she has begun reorganizing the hospitals, which she supervised during the recent war.

CABLE TO HAVANA REPAIRED.

The Mackay-Bennett Finds Break
Off Morro Castle.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
HAVANA, June 22.—The cable ship Mackay-Bennett restored the broken New York cable of the Commercial Cable Company at 7:45 o'clock this evening. The break was found off Morro Castle. The cable ship will come in tomorrow to replenish her coal supply. The Sunday crowd along the waterfront drive this evening watched the final work of splicing the broken cable, but the great majority did not understand what was going on, and expressed wonder as to what the strange craft was doing outside the Morro.

Senator Bustamante, the Liberal leader, says the Dolz bill substituting a parliamentary for a representative system of government in Cuba will create a dictatorship and provoke a revolution.

DEALER SOLD 'LAS GIGANTILLAS.'

Prince of Wagram Once Owned Painting Stolen From Museum.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
Paris, June 22.—Something has been learned of the recent history of Goya's "Las Gigantillas," the painting which was to have been sold recently at the sale of the collection of Marcelles de Nemes, but was withdrawn because of a statement made by the Spanish Government that the picture was stolen from a Madrid museum in 1869.

Marcelles de Nemes bought the painting from a Paris dealer, M. Barbazanges, in 1911. The dealer had acquired it from the Prince of Wagram, who bought it from Armand Freret, the artist. The latter is absent from Paris at present.

SCORES SEE RAPIDS TAKE BOYS' LIVES

Two Children Swept to Death in Niagara Whirlpool.

THEIR COMPANION ESCAPES

Jumps Into Water and Swims
Ashore as Boat Begins to Drift.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 22.—The whirlpool rapids of Niagara took two more lives today when Donald Rosco, aged 9 years, and Hubert Moore, aged 11 years, drifted into them in a boat in which they had been playing near the shore a half mile or so up the gorge. Elliott Thompson, a boy 12 years old, was also in the boat, but as he realized that to stick to the boat meant death in the rapids, he bade his little friends, who could not swim, good-by, leaped out and succeeded in reaching the shore. The drifting to death of the two boys was observed by scores of vacationists on the river banks and bridges. They saw the small boat creep slowly out from shore on the New York side, but did not at first realize that two little boys were in it. Finally the craft approached the recognized danger point and then onlookers saw that a tragedy was being enacted before their eyes.

Firemen Come Too Late.

Harold George, a boy whose home is on the river bank, saw the boys in the boat and sent a telephone alarm to the city firemen. They responded with ropes and ladders, but were not quick enough to effect a rescue, the boat having drifted into the rapids before the firemen reached the bridges from which they would have attempted a rescue.

During the half hour or more that the boat drifted toward the rapids spectators were loud in condemning the Federal, State and Canadian Governments for not having established life-saving devices to prevent such accidents. Had another boat been available or had it been possible to get word to the Maid of the Mist a rescue might have been made easily.

The boat passed under the railway bridges with the two boys holding fast to the seats. The first big wave upset the boat and tossed the boys into the rapids.

WHISKEY NEARLY KILLS BOYS.

Two Youngsters Say Strange Man Gave Them Liquor.

Two boys were found in a state of coma under a tree at Bonduy's place, near College Point yesterday afternoon. They were taken to the Flushing Hospital, where Drs. Baker, Steffen and Hodgkin found that they were suffering from alcoholic poisoning.

After recovering consciousness they said that a man gave them bottles of whiskey and that each drank more than a pint. They gave their names as Charles Marshall, 10 years old, of 365 East Sixty-ninth street, and Julius Polk, 14, of 505 East Sixty-ninth street.

ASCOT DISTURBER IMPROVING.

Man Who Stopped Belmont's Horse
in Race May Recover.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
London, June 22.—Harold Hewitt, the madman, who was badly injured by August Belmont's horse Tracery when he jumped in front of the racers at Ascot during the race for the Gold Cup is better. It is said at the Ascot Cottage Hospital, where Hewitt was taken after the race, that he may possibly recover from the injuries he received at the time.

MANY HURT IN BARCELONA RIOT.

Police Fire at Mob Demonstrating Against Morocco War.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
BARCELONA, June 22.—There was serious rioting here yesterday and today arising from demonstrations against the war in Morocco, which is very unpopular. The police frequently fired into the mobs and many persons were wounded. The soldiers held part of the city tonight.

Two Hurt in Runaway.

The runaway of a team of horses driven by James Basile of 120 Mott street caused the overturning of a coach yesterday and the injury of Frank Gallo of 224 East 112th street and John La Rosa of 183 Macdougall street, who were riding inside. The horses took flight in front of the Greenpoint ferry house.

FUCHON AND LE ROY HERE.

Men Arrested in Montreal Brought to Staten Island.

Amos Fuchon and Emile Le Roy, who were arrested in Montreal in connection with the robbery and firing of the cottage of Jacques Dier, on the Amboy road, Eltingville, on the night of June 6, arrived at Staten Island yesterday morning in the custody of Detectives Dietrich and Bruegeman, Central Office men.

The prisoners were taken to the Richmond county jail and will have an examination in the Magistrate's Court this afternoon. All the persons wanted in connection with the crime with the exception of Albert Souvey now have been apprehended.

Fuchon, when questioned by Assistant District Attorney Frank Inness, denied that he had anything to do with the crime. He said that Souvey gave him $3,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry belonging to the Diers to sell and he fled to Montreal to dispose of them.

Fuchon admitted that he was a prisoner in French Guiana, but denied that he was a lifer at Devil's Island, as he was reported to be. He said he was sent to the penitentiary in French Guiana and served his sentence of five years. At the expiration of his sentence he was warned never to return to France. He said after being liberated he sailed for Barbados and from there came to New York.

Le Roy gave practically no information about himself.

FIRE TENEMENTS TO SEE ENGINES, HE SAYS

Platt Said to Have Confessed
Starting Many Blazes on East Side.

Holly Platt, who says he is a machinist and lives at 912 Second avenue, told Magistrate Butts in the Harlem police court yesterday forenoon that he set fire to a tenement house at 1651 Third avenue yesterday morning.

As far as could be learned, Platt, who gives his age as 28 years, had no motive for setting fire to the building other than to see the fire engines race to the blaze.

When the firemen clattered up to the fire at 1651 Third avenue yesterday morning a boy named Tobin called the attention of a policeman to Platt, the boy insisting that he had seen Platt run away from the building just before the fire was discovered and come back later to mingle with the crowd.

More than 100 persons live in the Third avenue building. The janitor smelled smoke and sent in an alarm, which Marshal Prial thinks prevented loss of life.

A moment after the Tobin boy had pointed out Platt to the policeman Platt disappeared. Marshal Prial, Deputy Willis and the policeman found him huddling in a dark corner in a room on the second floor. He was arrested.

Platt first denied that he started the blaze, but when he faced Magistrate Butts he changed his mind and admitted doing so. Later it was said that he had confessed starting many fires on the upper East Side of late. Magistrate Butts held Platt without bail for a further hearing.

When the fire marshal was asked last night about details of Platt's confession Prial said that his subordinates were trying to verify dates and the street numbers of buildings where fires recently had occurred.

Blum & Koch Sample Straw Hats for Men

$3, $4 and $5 Grades
at $1.95

What's in a name?—Shakespeare
Everything!—Saks & Company

Q This is a day of names. A name is the measure of a man—it is a candle to his reputation—it is his rating in the Common Knowledge. Now, there is nothing singular about the name of Blum & Koch. It is no better than our own. But placed inside a straw hat it is the best name in the America of Straws! It stands for straw hat perfection. It invests the brim and the crown and the hat complete with quality and style. And so it is that when a man buys a B. & K. straw hat he does so with the knowledge that he is buying the best that man can make or money can buy.

Let us now turn our attention to this sample line of these celebrated straws.

Q A sample is an applicant for a job. It can therefore be depended upon to be the best that the maker produces. But do not be misled. These hats are no better than Blum & Koch sell us at regular prices. They are identically the same. That's the splendid part of it. These are regular B. & K. straw hats such as we sell every day for $3, $4 and $5 apiece. The question simply is: Do you want one at $1.95? And if you do, then today is the day to get it. Swiss straws, China Splints, Milans, Mackinaws, rough sennits, and medium and fine sennits, in all the new up-to-the-New-York-minute models, in all the newest shapes, crowns and brims, and in all sizes. Simply stupendous values!

Men's Walking Sticks
